Bobcat is where every Tiger starts. You'll get to know your den, learn the Scout Oath and Law, and practice the Cub Scout sign, salute, and handshake. It's the beginning of your Scouting story.

Requirements

Every official requirement, in plain language. Check the official wording when you sign off (scouting.org/cub-scout-adventures/bobcat-tiger/). Tips and examples are ideas, not extra requirements.

☐ 1 Get to know the other Scouts in your den

Tip: Play a name game or share your favorite animal so you learn something about each den member.

Example: Play "Animal Name Game": each Tiger says their name and a favorite animal, like "I'm Sam and I like sharks." The next Tiger repeats it before adding their own.

☐ 2 Say the Scout Oath together with your den and your adult partner

Tip: Say the Scout Oath a little each day with your adult partner, like at breakfast or in the car.

☐ 3 Have your adult partner or den leader read you the Scout Law, then show you understand being trustworthy, helpful, or friendly

Tip: Pick trustworthy, helpful, or friendly and act it out, like helping a friend clean up.

Example: Pick helpful and act it out: when the den finishes a craft, you pick up scraps and put away markers without being asked. Then tell the den which part of the Scout Law you showed.

- ☐ 4 Show the Cub Scout sign, salute, and handshake, and when each one is used

Tip: Practice the sign, salute, and handshake with your adult, and talk about when you'd use each one.

Example: Use the sign when the den says the Oath or when a leader wants quiet. Use the salute for the flag. Use the handshake to greet another Cub Scout. Practice all three with your adult.

- ☐ 5 At a den meeting or at home, tell your adult partner about a time you showed the Cub Scout motto "Do Your Best"

Tip: Think of a time you kept trying at something hard. Tell your adult partner about it at a den meeting or at home.

Example: "I did my best when I learned to read a whole book by myself. Some words were hard, but I sounded them out." Tell it to your adult partner at a den meeting or at home. A drawing can help you tell the story.

- ☐ 6 At home, work through the youth protection booklet (A Parent's Guide) activities together with a parent or legal guardian

Tip: Find a quiet evening to do the Parent's Guide activities with your parent or guardian.
