Fish On is your chance to go fishing with your adult partner. You'll pick a spot, learn the safety rules, imagine the fish living there, and then cast a line. Patience and fun go hand in hand.

Requirements

Every official requirement, in plain language. Check the official wording when you sign off (scouting.org/cub-scout-adventures/fish-on/). Tips and examples are ideas, not extra requirements.

- ☐ 1 With your den or adult partner, find the body of water where you will fish

Tip: Choose a pond, lake, or river with your adult. Look at it on a map and talk about what makes it a good spot.

Example: "We're going to fish at the pond in the city park. It has a pier, it's not too deep near the edge, and people catch bluegill and catfish there." Find it on a map and point to the pier.

- ☐ 2 Learn the rules for safe fishing with your adult partner

Tip: Go over the rules together, like staying with your adult near water and being careful with hooks.

Example: Safety rules can be: wear a life jacket on the pier, stay where your adult can reach you, look behind you before casting, and let your adult handle hooks and take fish off the line.

- ☐ 3 Draw the kind of fish you think lives in that water

Tip: Look up fish that live in that kind of water and draw the one you hope to catch.

Example: If your pond has catfish, draw one with long whiskers around its mouth. If it's a cold stream, you might draw a trout with spots. Color it the way you think it looks underwater.

☐ 4 Go fishing with your adult partner

Tip: Fish with your adult at a calm spot, and wear a life jacket if you're near deep water.

Example: Fish for an hour with your adult using a simple rod and bobber. Watch for the bobber to dip, reel in slowly, and look closely at what you catch before letting it go.
