Let's Camp gets you ready for a real Cub Scout campout. You'll learn what to pack, how to stay with a buddy, and a camping skill to show off. Then you get to sleep outside with your pack.

Requirements

Every official requirement, in plain language. Check the official wording when you sign off (scouting.org/cub-scout-adventures/lets-camp-wolf/). Tips and examples are ideas, not extra requirements.

☐ 1 Learn how the buddy system works outdoors

Tip: Practice the buddy system at a meeting. Stay together and check in when the leader calls buddy check.

Example: At camp, you and your buddy go everywhere together: the restroom, the water spigot, the campfire. When a leader calls buddy check, find each other fast and raise your hands.

☐ 2 Know the Cub Scout Six Essentials

Tip: Name each of the Six Essentials and pack them in a small bag you can carry.

☐ 3 Besides the Six Essentials, make a list of the personal gear you will need for the campout

Tip: Make a checklist with a grown-up: sleeping bag, pajamas, toothbrush, and warm clothes.

Example: Your list might be: sleeping bag or blankets, pillow, pajamas, a change of clothes, rain jacket, warm hat, toothbrush and toothpaste, and any medicine your adult packs and keeps.

☐ 4 Learn a camping skill

Tip: Learn to roll a sleeping bag, set up a tent, or tie a simple knot.

Example: Your camping skill could be helping set up a tent, rolling a sleeping bag, tying a knot for a clothesline, or learning the steps adults use to put out a campfire.

☐ 5 Go on a pack campout or attend a Cub Scout overnight camp run by your council or district

Tip: Sign up for a pack campout or council overnight, and bring your checklist.
