Paws of Skill is about playing sports and being a good sport. You'll learn rules, play as a team, and watch how a team works together. Having fun and being fair matters more than the score.

Requirements

Every official requirement, in plain language. Check the official wording when you sign off (scouting.org/cub-scout-adventures/paws-of-skill/). Tips and examples are ideas, not extra requirements.

- ☐ 1 With your den, discuss sportsmanship and being a good sport, and connect it to the Scout Oath and Scout Law

Tip: Talk about how to win or lose kindly. Which Scout Law points fit, like friendly and courteous?

Example: Good sportsmanship can sound like "Nice shot" to the other team or "We'll get them next time" to a teammate. It connects to the Scout Law: friendly, courteous, kind, and cheerful.

- ☐ 2 Learn the rules of a team sport, then play it for 30 minutes with your den, pack, family, or friends

Tip: Pick a sport like soccer or kickball, learn the rules, and play for 30 minutes.

Example: Your den learns kickball: three outs per team, run the bases in order, and the pitcher rolls the ball. Then you play for 30 minutes and mix up the teams halfway.

- ☐ 3 Go to or watch a team sports event with your den or family; tell them how you saw the players work together

Tip: Watch a school or local game. Notice how players pass, cheer, and help each other.

Example: While watching a game, notice players passing to an open teammate, high-fiving after a mistake, or a coach giving everyone a turn. Share one thing that helped the team.
