Race Time is about building and racing together. You and your adult partner will make a Pinewood Derby car or Raingutter Regatta boat, learn the rules, and race with good sportsmanship. The memories last longer than the trophies.

Requirements

Every official requirement, in plain language. Check the official wording when you sign off (scouting.org/cub-scout-adventures/race-time-tiger/). Tips and examples are ideas, not extra requirements.

- ☐ 1 With your adult partner, put together and decorate a car for the Pinewood Derby or a boat for the Raingutter Regatta

Tip: Plan your design together. Let the Tiger choose shapes and colors while the adult handles tools.

Example: You draw a shark-shaped car. Your adult does the cutting and drilling. You sand the edges, paint it gray with a white belly, add a fin sticker, and help press in the wheels.

- ☐ 2 Learn the race rules for the car or boat you picked in requirement 1

Tip: Read your pack's race rules together and check your car or boat before race day.

Example: Go through the rules together: the weight limit, the length and width, what wheels you can use, and how check-in works. Measure your car or boat to make sure it fits.

- ☐ 3 Before the race, talk with your adult partner about how you will show good sportsmanship

Tip: Talk about cheering for others and shaking hands, win or lose.

Example: Your plan: shake hands with the racer next to you, clap for every heat, say "good race" whether you win or lose, and help pick up after the event.

- ☐ 4 Race in a Pinewood Derby or Raingutter Regatta with your adult partner

Tip: Race with your partner, cheer for everyone, and thank the volunteers.

Example: On race day, check in your racer, cheer for your den, watch your car zoom or blow your boat down the gutter, and thank the volunteers who ran the track.
