Requirements

Every official requirement, in plain language. Check the official wording when you sign off (scouting.org/programs/cub-scouts/adventures/tiger/). Tips and examples are ideas, not extra requirements.

☐ 1 Bobcat

Tip: Bobcat is about getting to know your den and the Scout Oath, Law, sign, and salute. Practice the Oath together on the way to meetings.

Example: Practice the Cub Scout sign and handshake at breakfast, and say the Oath together in the car. By the second month, your Tiger might lead the den in the Oath at a meeting.

☐ 2 Tigers in the Wild

Tip: Tigers in the Wild is a nature walk with your Six Essentials. Find a favorite tree near home and visit it often.

Example: Pick a nearby tree to visit through the year. On your first walk, your Tiger carries the Six Essentials, follows the Outdoor Code, and tells you how the tree helps birds, shade, and air.

☐ 3 Tiger Bites

Tip: Tiger Bites is about food, clean hands, exercise, and sleep. Help plan a colorful snack with all five food groups.

☐ 4 Team Tiger

Tip: Team Tiger is about rules, teamwork, and service. Choose a den job, like line leader or snack helper, and do it well.

Example: Your Tiger chooses a den job like flag holder or cleanup captain, plays a team game, and helps the den sort donations for a food pantry.

☐ 5 Tiger's Roar

Tip: Tiger's Roar teaches personal safety. Practice what to do if you get separated next time you're at a store.

Example: Watch the Protect Yourself Rules video at home, then make a plan together for what to do if you're separated at a store or fair. Practice it on your next outing.

☐ 6 Tiger Circles

Tip: Tiger Circles is about family faith traditions and kindness. Plan a small, surprise act of kindness for someone.

☐ 7 Complete any 2 elective adventures

Tip: Pick two electives that match what you love, like magic, boats, stars, or games. Your den may do some together.

Example: A curious Tiger might pick Curiosity, Intrigue, and Magical Mysteries and Sky Is the Limit. An active Tiger might pick Tiger Tag and Rolling Tigers. Follow your child's interests.
